Examiner's Statement Of Reason For Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance

Claims 1-14 are allowed.

Regarding claim 1, the prior art of record does not teach all the combined components and or elements for a printing apparatus including a response delay calculating unit configured to calculate a response delay time of the upstream sensor according to a difference between the first transport distance and the second the transport distance; and a correction unit configured to correct a remaining printable distance on a paper rear end side after detecting the rear end of the paper by the upstream sensor, on the basis of the response delay time.

Regarding claim 12, the prior art of record does not teach all the combined steps for a printing method in a printer, wherein the printer includes a downstream sensor capable of detecting paper, and an upstream sensor disposed upstream of the downstream sensor in a paper-transport-direction and capable of detecting the paper, including calculating a response delay time of the upstream sensor from a difference between the first transport distance and the second transport distance; and correcting a remaining printable distance on a paper rear end side after detecting the rear end of the paper by the upstream sensor, on the basis the response delay time.

Regarding claim 14, the prior art of record does not teach all the combined components and or elements for a printing, including means f or calculating a response delay time of the upstream sensor from a difference between the first transport distance and the second transport
